PERSONAL AND SOCIETY.

[All society and personal notes for the Sunday tone of the Journal, to secure publication, must to in the hands of the city editor by Saturday noon.]

There is a husband and wife in the city who had the courage to establish the precedent of having a progressive euchre party and no favors to give to those who by skill or chance, won more games than any of their competitors. When a progressive eucher party can be given without prizes the company will have all the pleasure of the game, and the meeting of friends and strangers without feverish excitement and hard feelings. So much has been said against the game, and the extravagances to which entertainers have been tempted when they could ill afford to purchase handsome prizes, that the subject is threadbare, but the couple who dared to have a party of the kind without the prizes deserve commendation. The presence in the city of so distinguished a woman as Miss Harrist Hosmer afforded an opportunity for a number of notable social entertainments. She arrived Monday and became the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sewall, who gave a dinner Tuesday evening, a breakfast Wednesday, an informal reception from 4 to 5 o'clock the same day, and an informal luneheon Thursday in the visitor's honor. Wednesday evening Miss Hosmer talked to the members of the Contemporary Club on "The distinguished people I have known." Thursday the Art Association gave an elegant reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Pierce, to which the public was invited, and Friday Miss Hosmer departed for Washington, en route to Rome. Among the other entertainments of the week were three given for the Misses Reid, of Belfast, Ireland, Monday, evening Mr. and Mrs. John M. Shaw having a few friends to meet them informally. Tuesday afternoon Miss Helen Erwin gave a chocolate for them, and her other guest, Miss May. of Philadelphia, and Thursday Mrs. C. B. Lockard being the hostess of a company for the Misses Reid and Erwin. Monday Mrs. V. T. Malott gave an elegant large afternoon reception, and Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Malott had a large dancing party to introduce their daughter, Miss Katharine, and guests, Miss Waller and Miss Hawke, of Chicago. Wednesday Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Wishard celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and it was a very pleasant reunion of relatives and old and new friends. Tuesday Mr. Charles E. Coffin was the host at a dinner to the trustees and stewards of Meridian-street Church. Wednesday the marriage of Miss Margaret Cook and Mr. Gustav Pfeifguished a woman as Miss Harriet Hosmer street Church. Wednesday the marriage of Miss Margaret Cook and Mr. Gustav Pfeif-fer was celebrated. Mrs. William Daggett and Mrs. William Allen at the same time and Mrs. William Allen at the same time gave a flower and grain party to about forty friends. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs had an evening company for about thirty friends. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Bruner celebrated their silver wedding, and Friday night the people of society went out to hear Henry M. Stanley. Several invitations issued for receptions and parties during the week were recailed on account of illness of those who were to entertain. During the holiday weeks a number of elegant entertainments are to be given.
